John 8:58

“I Am”

Jesus said unto
them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

That statement alone
is packed with power
and authority.

Jesus, who was born long after Abraham had already died, proclaimed that he existed
BEFORE Abraham.

We may wish to think about those words
of Christ, the Messiah, and ask as many questions as we need to ask.

Was the creator of Popeye
the sailor (the classic American cartoon
character) imitating, or even mocking, these words where he
frequently wrote,

“I yam what I yam”?

Are those who insist
they are gods (or even God) attempting to
overstep the one who said, “before Abraham was, I am”?

Let us allow Great Spirit to impart wisdom and understanding into our hearts concerning

the I Am.
